Spring Meeting, March 16, 2012

Shorewood Country Club, Dunkirk, NY

Mother Nature was kind to us this year. After a rather mild winter, March offered us several weeks of above average temperatures and provided a gorgeous sunshiny day for the spring St. Patrick's Day meeting of the emeritus group.

Everyone who claimed to be part Irish, or those who simply went along with the fun and festivities, dressed for the occasion wearing their own bit of green attire.

J. Brien and Ann Murphy arrived early to place the sparkling green decorations around the room and the center of each table. The traditional corned beef and cabbage dinner was one of the choices offered and enjoyed by the members. Others choose the Greek salad or the generous burger platter. Crème-de-menthe over ice cream finished the meal.

Before continuing with the afternoon's program, Kevin Fox gave a brief account of the early life, and later colorful years, of Paul Dommermuth (Sociology) who passed away in November. He also noted the passing of Theris Aldrich who started her teaching career at the Campus School.

The highlight of the afternoon was the entertainment. There were several amusing stories offered by Kevin Fox and Tom Morrissey. Carm and Dick Gilman brought their talents to us through their music – Dick singing the longtime favorite, "Old Bones," while Carm recited a poem entitled "Motamora" (The Garden Song). It was remarkable how she had memorized and delivered the entire, quite lengthy, poem without a single flaw.

Alice Lord reminded members that the fall meeting would be the best time to pay the annual $5 dues. For those who choose to send them, her address is 342 Temple St., Fredonia, NY 14063.

A green derby hat served as the receptacle holding the names of all attendees. Tom Goetz and Carm Gilman each won gourd birdhouses that were made by Kevin Fox and Carolyn Briggs won a bottle of Irish Crème that was donated by Brien and Ann Murphy.

Newsbits letters indicate that everyone loves seeing the photos, so Peter Komada did his best to capture all the members as they enjoyed the afternoon. As the meeting came to a close, I couldn't help but think that these get-togethers just keep getting better and better.

Respectfully submitted,

Carolyn Briggs, Secretary

PS: As well as the photos, everyone enjoys reading about the retirement activities of other members. Please send along your notes to orourke@netsync.net.

Emeritus Newsbits, Summer 2012

Here in alpha order (not by age) are some bits of news about our colleagues. Thanks for sending them to us. Please send us your news too. Try to be brief if you can. Don't think of them as letters but as postcards to old friends and colleagues. They are interested in you. We will only edit gently. Dan O'Rourke, Editor

Our latest postcard from Delaware---Bob is writing a history of Bear Lake, where we still enjoy our summers, and exploring publication options, while Anne is working with the governor's advisory council to move as many patients as possible from the state's psychiatric hospital into less restrictive community homes. We are also planning our third international volunteer trip. This one to Xi'an China for October or November. Although we enjoyed working last year with the elderly and HIV/AIDS patients in Costa Rica, we look forward to the easier job of teaching conversational English in China as we did in India. Loved Boo's hat and Warner's wit in the last newsletter and look forward to seeing everyone at the June luncheon.

ANNE & BOB DEMING

Life is going smoothly at my assisted residence in Florida. I decided to run a Gourmet film festival on Sunday evenings. If you are interested in seeing the selections from my personal collection write me at MLunenfeld@gmail.com.

MARVIN LUNENFELD

Long ago as a student, I started writing a series on Fredonia's history. It began to run serially in the Observer on March 13. My sophomore critic teacher was John Ohles and his dissertation, then in progress, was on the history of Fredonia State. (It's in Reed Library along with his interview notes -- some of them fairly candid or "catty"?) In the series I decided to answer some of the questions I've been asked over the years. For example, "Is the parquet floor in the north end of Fenton a former ballroom?" (No, it's the President's former office.) Hope you and the Observer readers will enjoy this informal history.

JOHN MALCOLM

I recently completed teaching a five-week course on the Native Americans of the Southwest at the west campus of Arizona State University in Glendale, Arizona. It is a non-credit course that is part of the curriculum of the Osher Lifetime Learning Program. One feature of this class is that, in addition to the regular lecture-discussion sessions at ASU, it also meets at the Heard Museum in downtown Phoenix where I conducted a tour of Southwest Indians. It is a genuine opportunity to have a world-class museum as a teaching resource. I continue work on the study of the "American Southwest as Mesoamerica's Northern Frontier" (to be published in an anthology by Texas A&M). My wife Geraldine remains very busy with her decorating business and artistic endeavors. Last year we visited Guatemala and Panama; this spring we go to Cabo San Lucas for two weeks. Children and grandkids are doing well in San Francisco. Bills fans should note that Buffalo is playing Arizona Cardinals next fall in Glendale, twenty minutes away from our adobe house.

DIRK & GERALDINE RAAT

Ken and Jean are still enjoying the winter weather in Georgia, but since the northern winters seem to be more balmy we'll spend more of the year in Maine near our children. We continue to be quite active and enjoy a very good life. Congrats to President Hefner on his excellent tenure at Fredonia. Cheers to all.

Dear Retired Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that I ask you to "save the date" of Friday, September 21, 2012 for the Investiture of Dr. Virginia Schaefer Horvath as the 13th President of SUNY Fredonia. The investiture ceremony will take place at 2 p.m. in King Concert Hall, with a reception to follow. I hope you will dust off your academic regalia and join us for this historic and festive occasion. Our Inauguration Planning Committee is currently working on a week-long series of events that will include lectures by visiting notables, symposia, performances, exhibits and an international dinner -- all of which you will be invited to. A formal invite is forthcoming.

Jefferson Westwood
Chair, Presidential Inauguration Committee

Dear Emeriti:

This message is the final one I will be sending you as President of SUNY Fredonia. It's been an honor and a privilege to be an integral part of this campus for nearly 16 years, and to get to know so many of you. As all of you well know, there comes a time to pass the baton to someone else, and for me, that time is now. I am very pleased that Dr. Virginia Horvath will become the 13th president of SUNY Fredonia.

Jan and I move mid-July to Carolina Preserve, a 55+ community, in Cary, NC. We are busy downsizing from the 5,600 square foot President's House, with its spacious storage areas in the basement and attic, to a 2,700 square foot house that has neither a basement or an attic. Living at 194 Central has been a real privilege, but we are looking forward to once again owning our own home.

Jan and I are also very much looking forward to reading the next edition of this newsletter. After all, by that time, we'll be lounging in our sunroom and reading about your many adventures.

We wish you all the very best, and look forward to joining your ranks in just a few weeks.

Sincerely,

Dennis & Jan Hefner
