

Intern WALL OF FAME

Dallas Greene (TV/Film Production, Junior)
Videographer; Study Abroad Promotional Video
International Education Office

I am currently interning through the International Education Office in Lograsso on campus as a videographer. This is my first internship and it has been an exciting new adventure for me. I feel it has given me a leg up in terms of preparing for an interview, staying organized, working with and meeting new people, time management and working in the film production field. Working with the International Education Office has made me feel more confident with my major and has given me a glimpse into the "real world." With this internship on my resume, I feel more confident that I will have that much more of a shot when applying for a job after graduation. I would definitely recommend that other students apply for internships. They provide a great opportunity for you to hone your skills and help you become more comfortable in your line of work. My advice to those unsure about whether or not to intern: just do it, you really won't regret it.

CDO has been wonderful to me! In particular, Marjorie Plaister. I had never been to the CDO Office before this semester (I'm a junior) and she welcomed me with open arms. It is because of her that I even heard about my internship. Marjorie sat me down, listened to my questions and gave me heaps of advice and help. The entire office was very friendly and was genuinely involved with helping me find my way. I owe them many thanks!
